

This Matters – Is This the Climate Election?

Are we having our first climate change election? Find out how your vote could affect the planet’s future.

We are going to watch a BBC News programme, This Matters – Is This the Climate Election?, where we will learn about why the upcoming election is important in terms of protecting our planet from climate change.

Task: As we watch (00:00-03:40), note down what you hear about each of the major parties’ attitudes towards climate change.

Green Party	Conservative Party	Labour Party
Scottish National Party	Liberal Democrat Party	Brexit Party

Task: As we watch (03:40 – 04:39), complete the True or False quiz. If false, write the correct answer underneath.

True / False

1. Part Sea levels in Wales are predicted to rise by 20% by 2050.

True / False

2. The sea rise levels in Fairbourne could create the UK’s first climate refugees – by 2050, the village would need to be abandoned.

True / False

3. Climate change is the most important issue for people in Wales of all ages.

Task: As we watch (03:40 – 04:39), summarise in one sentence why Brexit matters in terms of Climate Change:
